LOWDEN PLACES BLAME FOR COAL STRIKE ON ROADS

Failure to Provide Cars to Blame for Illegal Walkout, He Says.

Chicago July 26—Failure of the railroads to supply empty cars to the coal mines is responsible for the strike of Illinois miners Governor Frank O Lowden declared in a statement last night

The highest wages paid day men in the mines under the federal wage award is $6 per day the governor said, but because of the car shortage many miners worked but two days a week and therefore earned but $12

The miners have taken the wrong way to correct this inequality however the governor says The present strike he points out is a violation of their contracts and added that the men should return to work and place their case before the commission which made the award

THE STATEMENT

His statement in part follows

The coal situation is critical The primary cause is to be found in the car shortage It appears that in some fields the mines have been able to work but two days a week Though the wages fixed by the award made by the President's commission last March seem large the weekly income is anything but large The highest price paid to the day men is six dollars per day but this yields an income of only $12 per week in the cases above cited

When the increase was fixed last spring the pay of the day men was not increased by the same percentage as the pay of the miners proper These men now feel this inequality should be corrected especially in view of the fact that they are employed so small a part of the time Whatever the merits however of this claim it is perfectly clear they have gone the wrong way about it to correct this inequality A contract was made covering a period of two years If the men who were parties to that contract now attempt to modify it by striking the very principle of collective bargaining is assailed

If the contract does injustice to the day men in mines their remedy is not to strike but to appeal to the commission which made the award

For several years the coal situation has been my chief concern I shall continue to keep in touch with the situation and every agency of the state Government will be employed to end this very critical condition

ASKED TO USE POWER

The governor's statement was issued following a conference with a score of leading Illinois coal operators who asked him to use his power to relieve conditions

Two thirds of the factories in Chicago and Illinois must shut down within three or four days unless they get coal John M Glenn secretary of the Illinois Manufacturers association said after leaving the governor "The same situation prevails throughout the middlewest" he continued "Some factories are supplied for a couple of weeks some for a month and some for only a day or two

ADVISES OPEN SHOP

Nobody has stored any coal for next winter Usually at this time of the year plants have supplies laid in for a year There is only one thing to do that is to dig coal If some big operator announces he is going to dig coal he is going to run an open shop he'll have no difficulty finding men

Then it will be up to the governor and the sheriff to provide protection Let them get General Wood there He will open them up

The truth is the unions are disintegrating but while they are crumbling they are still bossing the operators and the Government

IRISH SITUATION MORE ALARMING THAN IN 40 YEARS

Rioting in Belfast Subsides, But Lull Believed Only Temporary.

London July 26—Sir Horace Plunkett founder of the Irish dominion league and leader of the moderate Irish nationalist opinion told a New Castle audience Saturday that the situation in Ireland is more gravely alarming than it has been within the knowledge of 40 years

A similar view is reflected by the newspapers of both England and Ireland of all shades of politics It found expression in all the speeches of Thursday's discussions in the House of Commons even Sir Edward Carson declaring he had never known anything like the state of anarchy prevailing and that in three quarters of Ireland the British Government has been entirely beaten" Sir Hamar Greenwood chief secretary for Ireland warned the country to brace itself against a bitter period in Irish history

The rioting in Belfast subsided today but there are plenty of signs that the lull is only temporary

CRISIS REACHED

Both from Premier Lloyd George's statement to the labor delegation Thursday and from Sir Hamar's speech it is considered apparently that the government regards a parting of the ways as having been reached One road leads toward negotiation with the Sinn Fein on the basis of a dominion form of government while the other apparently leads toward the bitter period which Sir Hamar foresees with more soldiers and stricter laws for repression foremost among them one for the trial of criminals by summary courts and the giving up of attempts to induce jurymen to answer to a summons

There are two extreme factions in Ireland now the Orangemen of the north who insist upon maintaining the Irish system as it is and the Sinn Feiners who demand independence between these policies lies the middle course of dominion government with Ulster excluded which Premier Lloyd George has declared he is willing to consider

ANTICIPATE CONFERENCE

It is understood James Henry Thomas labor member of the House of Commons and other laborites will follow the premier's plain hint to bring the Sinn Fein leaders into a conference That however, would mean throwing overboard the principal plank of the Sinn Feiners platform which is an independent republic

The chief factor operating to bring Irish affairs to a head is the latest phase of warfare that of retaliation The events of the past few days have shown that when assassinations occur it means an outbreak of revenge by the other party, in which peaceable people suffer

MORE SOLDIERS

Another battalion of soldiers arrived in Belfast today making five on the ground Three regiments of cavalry at Aldershot have been ordered to be ready to proceed to Ireland The lord mayor of Belfast has issued an appeal to citizens for aid in restoring order declaring the authorities are determined to use drastic measures

Small interest has been excited in Ireland by the tentative proposals attributed to Mr Lloyd George regarding dominion home rule with the partition of six Ulster counties

The volunteers are regarded as a powerful compromise Labor intervention through Mr Thomas is said to be provoking Sinn Fein irritation The Sinn Fein press says it considers Mr Thomas merely as Mr Lloyd George's 'honner' acting in the interests of English domination and pushing forward dominion rule as a red herring

Extreme declines in wheat amounted to 8 cents a bushel at $2 51 for March delivery Pork fell $2 00 a barrel and lard more than $1 a hundredweight

Was Killed By Jealous Husband, is Theory.

Detroit Mich, July 26—The woman whose mutilated body was shipped in a trunk from Detroit to New York has been positively identified by the Detroit police as Mrs C Leroy formerly Miss Katherine Jackson of Starkville Miss police Inspector McCarty asserted today

'Clothing found in the trunk with the body has been positively identified by Patrolman Trumbull and his wife as having belonged to Mrs Leroy the inspector said Trumbull and his wife were intimately acquainted with the Leroys

Ten prisoners including Millen were lined up for Patrolman Trumbull's inspection He walked from one end of the line to the other, scanning the faces of the men closely Then he announced Leroy ' was not in the line

Patrolman Trumbull was personally acquainted with the missing Leroy and his wife as they lived in the same neighborhood in Detroit Millen is shorter than Leroy, Trumbull said and his features are more pointed

FARRINGTON WANTS LEWIS TO KEEP OFF

Declares Without Interference Operators and Miners Could Quickly End Coal Strike.

Springfield, Ill., July 26—President Frank Farrington of the Illinois Miners' Union issued a statement this morning that "If Mr. Lewis will keep his hands off and the government permit it, the operators and miners in this state can get together and in a very few hours work out a satisfactory arrangement that will result in resumption of mining in Illinois."

The statement alleged to have been made by International President Lewis to the effect that he would call out miners of other districts outside of Illinois if the Illinois operators made any concessions to the Illinois miners, said Mr Farrington's statement, can have only one effect, and that will be that every powerful interest in the country, as well as governmental influences, will combine and bring pressure to bear upon Illinois operators to prevent their making any concessions

NO NEED FOR STRIKE

There will be no necessity for Mr. Lewis to call a strike as threatened, as the operators in the competing districts will, no doubt, make the same concessions made by Illinois operators and the necessity for a strike will thus be avoided, and the country assured a steady coal production during the winter

Every concession asked can be granted without increasing the present price paid by the public for coal. The only thing needed to straighten out the trouble is for the federal government to permit the Illinois miners and operators to get together

Public statements that the miners are asking time and a half for overtime and double time for Sundays have no foundation in fact

FED UP ON APPEALS

And as for the probable effect of a possible appeal by President Wilson I do not care to offer any prediction, except to say that the Illinois miners are pretty well fed up on appeals and have now reached the point where they want something substantial

As for press reports that the strike is the result of political ambition, I now repeat that I have no designs on nor am I an aspirant for the presidency of our international union"

Conditions in the Illinois coal field are not materially changed. A number of independent coal companies, Mr Farrington said, had agreed to the demands of the shift hands, including payment of the $2 a day increase

Three conciliators of the department held a conference this morning but declared they had formulated no plans President Farrington, whom they were to meet at noon said there is nothing for the conciliators to do

SOVIETS AGAIN SEEK RECOGNITION

Use Allied Demand for Armistice.

Paris July 26—The approval by the Russian soviet government for a conference in London with all the allies as reported in last night's dispatches, will be the subject of an exchange of views between France and Great Britain It is possible that Premiers Lloyd George and Millerand will meet during the present week for a discussion on the reply to be made to Moscow

As reviewed here the soviet government has seized the allied demand for an armistice with Poland as a pretext for a return to the original soviet campaign for official recognition of the Moscow government and political circles in Paris regard the maneuver as a skillful one which has placed some of the allies particularly France, in a delicate position

WILL DEMAND DISARMAMENT

Even if one does not possess a ring mold, one can still serve a salad molded in a ring and filled with any kind of filling desired

To make a jelly ring use two pans one within the other A weight will be needed in the inner pan to keep it from floating in the jelly before it jells

For a summer luncheon a chicken salad served in a ring of chicken jelly has no equal A salad molded in this fashion is most attractive and a little out of the ordinary. The hostess serves it at the table

MENU FOR TOMORROW

Breakfast—Blueberries with top milk, scrambled eggs toast coffee

Luncheon—Cantaloupe filled with fruit jellied chicken salad Parker House rolls tea sponge pudding

Dinner—Nut loaf new peas in cream sauce endive salad red raspberry short cake coffee

MY OWN RECIPES

When the fruit served for break fast is rather mild the rest of the meal should have a definite flavor to give the whole tone Put dried beef in the butter before the eggs are put in to cook Let the edges of the beef curl a tiny bit The result will be most satisfying

Jellied Chicken Salad—1 hen one-year old, 1 cup celery diced, 2 hard boiled eggs, 1 cup English walnuts Mayonnaise

Wash and cup up the chicken as for frying Wash the feet and legs very carefully and cook them with the chicken for the sake of the gelatin Granulated gelatin may be used to be on the safe side One tablespoonful of gelatin dissolved in ¼ cup of cold water may be added to the chicken broth just before straining Cool the broth, skim, and reheat Add gelatin and strain through a cloth into the space between the pans the ring mold Set aside to harden When solid pour a drop of hot water into the inner pan and give it a twist Remove pan Plunge the larger pan into hot water for a second and then pass a knife around the ring The jelly can now be turned out on the serving dish Fill the ring with the chicken cut in dices combined with the celery and diced eggs Moisten with mayonnaise sprinkle with nuts and put a large spoonful of stiff mayonaise on top The whole is of course arranged on a bed of lettuce

Sponge Pudding—½ cup butter 2 tablespoons sugar 1 3 cup flour 2 cups milk, 4 eggs

Sauce—½ cup butter 1 cup powdered sugar, 1 egg white 1 cup strawberries or any fruit desired

Mix butter, sugar and flour to a smooth paste Heat milk to the boiling point and stir in first mixture Beat until smooth and thick When cool add yolks and whites of eggs beaten separately. Pour into a buttered baking dish and set in a pan of hot water in oven Bake forty minutes To make sauce cream butter and sugar Add white of egg beaten stiff and fruit

Faulty Positions While At Work.

Don't let your body become deformed through faulty posture

Some occupations apparently cannot be carried on without the worker having to assume unhealthful positions This is the case, for example, with garment workers, shoemakers doing hand work, and draughtsmen

Studying an occupation from the hygenic standpoint, especially as regards the position assumed by the worker, it is found that in at least some instances a faulty position can be corrected by changing the accepted or conventional manner and conditions of work

Don't blindly follow old methods, se if they cannot be changed for the better

Consider what has been done in bricklaying—formerly a bricklayer stooped far over both to reach the bricks to lay and for the mortar, a ridiculous waste of energy Nowadays, both bricks and mortar are placed at a convenient height, and stooping is no longer necesary

Wherever deformity is due to a faulty position assumed by an individual, much can be accomplished by education and training by attention to lighting style of chair height of desk or table eye strain etc Almost equally important are setting-up exercises and breathing drills as practiced in most public schools.

Why People Wear Glasses

It isn't for the purpose of seeing as far as possible, nor as well as possible, nor to have as acute vision as possible.

Not altogether.

The first and most important consideration is comfortable vision.

And securing comfortable vision means in many cases the REDUCING of the acuity of vision. Stop imagining that your eyes are thus and so

"TRY TRUTONA" PLEA OF DECATUR RESIDENT

Monroe St. Woman Urges All Sufferers from Stomach Trouble to Take Perfect Tonic—Thinks Relief Assured.

"Trutona is a wonderful medicine and I'll advise anyone suffering from troubles like mine to go to the Quaker Drug Store and buy a bottle," Mrs. Emma Reese, a well-known Decatur woman of 543 North Monroe Street, told the Trutona representative recently.

"I had been suffering with a bad stomach," she continued. "Gas formations affected my heart, causing a burning sensation, and I seemed to get out of breath and become tired so easily. At times, even the lightest weight against my stomach caused me much misery. I had severe kidney pains in my back. I've been so nervous that I haven't slept the whole night through for years. Constipation had always bothered me.

"I'm feeling better than I have for years, since taking Trutona. I hardly notice the gas formations at all now. I can eat a good hearty meal without suffering afterward nowadays. I don't experience the pains in my back any more either. My heart hasn't pained me for the past month. I can walk anywhere without becoming short of breath, also. I sleep so much better, too, and I can't remember when my bowels have been more normal. Trutona is just a wonderful medicine."

MRS. EMMA REESE.

Trutona is now being introduced and explained in Decatur at the Quaker Drug Company's store and is sold in surrounding cities and towns by all good druggists.

STALEYS PULL CONTEST OUT OF FIRE IN NINTH

Enter Last Frame Four Runs Behind but Produce Five Counters While Fans Go Wild With Joy.

Pulling one of those 'Hairbreadth Harry' stunts you read about in dime novels, the starchworkers played the hero part Sunday afternoon when they chased over five runs in the last half of the ninth winning from the Pyotts of Chicago 8 to 7 after every one had marked the old game in the loss column

It was one of the greatest finishes ever staged in Decatur and when Wasem scored the winning run with only two down the fans heaved cushions all over the big stand It was the happiest crowd that ever left the park and they had a right to be

Joe McGinnity was forced to use every bit of strategy at his command and the second guessers didn t have a chance to get on the iron man ' for everything he pulled turned out exactly right

Seib was wild and Joe got him out of there Ranney Young was hit hard in one inning and McGinnity derricked Ranney to let Veach hit Lotshaw went into pinch hit and got a base on balls that later turned into a run while Veach and English each produced hits when doing the pinch roll

THAT NINTH FRAME

After George Watkins had popped out to Blank Frank English went up to hit for McGinnit He beat out an infield top Some of the visitors claimed the ball had beat him to the bag Meinert came through with an infield hit Woodworth delivered with a wallop to right scoring English and sending Meinert to third The fans took a new lease on life

George Halas who had been unable to connect on his other trips to the plate singled to center and Meinert romped home Ray Demmitt took four wide ones filling the bases Fritz Wasem tapped to Debus who threw out Demmitt at second but on the try for a double killing the ball got away from Kilby and two runs trickled over the plate tying the score McGlade walked and with Fritz Wasem perching on third Driscoll threw Pahlmans tap past Kilby and the winning run scored

TEAMS TIED UP

After Blank had beat out a hit in the third he went to second when McGlade threw wild at first The local third sacker had made a great stay on his drive down the base line Debus walked and with the count three and two on him Driscoll combed out a three bagger to left scoring his two mates

Staleys came back in their half and tied the score Watkins got a two base hit over in left a chance that neither Blank Debus or Cronin could touch Seib flew out and Meinert walked Woodworth singled scoring Watkins and Demmitt scored Wasem with a long fly to Kavanaugh

The visitors came back with another in the fourth Kerins walked Rambler followed suit Seib caught Kerins off second by three feet [illegible] but Watkins in trying to nip Rambler off first threw the ball in right field It hopped [illegible] Demmitt and Rambler scored

THEY SCORED THREE

We tied it up again in the fifth Lotshaw hitting for Seib drew a pass Meinert got an infield hit and Woodworth advanced both runners with a neat sacrifice Lotshaw beat Kilbys peg home on Halas tap

The Pyotts put over three in the sixth With one down Cronin singled Kerins walked Meinert dropped Ramblers fly but threw out Cronin at third Batchley doubled scoring two and Blank followed suit sending in the Chicago twirler There was not any more scoring until the big ninth

SHORT STOPS

It was the first garrison finish on the home lot this season and the fans certainly gave vent to their feelings Cushions were hurled for fifteen minutes following Wasem s winning run.

There was more baseball crowded in that ninth frame than in an average game Hits wild pitches bases on balls errors pinch hitters stolen bases several arguments and last but not least five big runs

McGinnity certainly had the strategy board working during the contest Everybody got in the old game but Harry Rush and had Wasem failed to score he would have been in there twirling Mr Chamberlain was ready to get on a suit to pinch hit for some one as they seemed to be turning the tide

Grover Batchley and Avory McGlade were team mates for three years in the old I-M league and the Central Association, the former being sent to the Browns McGlade took picks on his offerings for two good wallops

Seib got out of a bad hole in the fourth when he caught Kerins off second with two on and nobody down Watkins' bad peg to first allowed one run to cross but it might have been worse

The visitors had another patched up lineup Hank Butcher was not even able to put on a uniform because of an attack of rheumatism while Spike La Ross could only hobble around the coaching lines owing to a bad foot sustained in Saturday s game

They only secured four hits off Seib but his control was bad and McGinnity didn t care to run any more chances. Young s offerings were hit rather freely and Joe went in himself

The Pyotts had never faced such a quick delivery One of the athletes said after the game that Joe had him winded from swinging so fast

With Paddie Driscoll signed for the football team it was only natural that he should toss the ball away in the ninth permitting his future teammates to win Paddie says he will be ready to take all contributions on his return in September

Bill Niesen was still talking to himself when the train pulled out early this morning He had the old game sewed up in the medicine chest but it takes three outs to complete an inning His athletes handed the ball like it was rubber in the last frame

The new stand was given a good tryout Sunday but will see an even greater crowd when the Fairbanks Morse club plays here this coming week end The Beloit club is one team that doesn t need any advertising

STALEYS SIGN PADDIE DRISCOLL FOR ELEVEN

Former All Western and All Service Backfield Star to Pilot Great Machine This Season.

When Superintendent G E Chamberlain of the E A Staley Co announced the signing of Paddie Driscoll Sunday, he turned a trick that half of the great professional teams in the United States were attempting, for the Chicago boy was one of the most sought for athletes in the country

Although Paddie has never performed in Decatur, his record as a football, base ball and basket ball man is well known to the followers of sports He was the star of the Northwestern University eleven for three years and later gained a national reputation while playing with the Great Lakes Naval Training station team which won the service championship of the country

DRISCOLL AND HALAS

While it is not generally known throughout the country, it was Paddie Driscoll and George Halas that whipped the famous Lakes eleven into a championship machine, after Bo Olcott, the former Yale star, had been relieved as head coach and Lieutenant McReavy placed in charge

McReavy had played at Annapolis but it was years ago and to Driscoll and Halas came the duties of actually coaching the eleven The team had been held to a tie in several games under Olcott but when these two got hold of it Halas to coach the line and Driscoll the back field they never lost a game after that, defeating Rutgers considered one of the best in the east, the Naval Academy and the Marines at Pasadena, Cal

PLAYED WITH HAMMOND

Last season Paddie played with the famous Hammond team that used the Cubs park in Chicago for their games. The two battles with the great Canton team, led by Jim Thorpe, were the classics of the western season as far as professional football wa concerned

Rock Island with a wonderful machine, perhaps the greatest developed in Illinois, outside the Hammond eleven, was forced to bow to the Hammonds by a 12 to 6 score With half of the famous Minneapolis Marines Bob Marshall, Ursella, Joe Chicken and others, they received their only defeat at the hands of Driscoll and Halas

The Islanders later offered Jim Thorpe $7,000 to bring his Canton team to the Mississippi river town

HAVE GREAT BACKFIELD.

The signing of Driscoll gives the Staleys one of the best backfields that could be secured Bob Kohler, slated to play full, Dutch Sternaman, former Illinois star, Jake Lanumn, Walter Veech, who played good football for the locals last season, and Driscoll at quarterback Paddie is a wonderful field general and one of the greatest open field runners in the game

Driscoll will report Sept 1 ready for duty His coming also adds a clever basket ball guard to the A E Staley athletic family as well as a high class ball player. He was very much enthused over the Staley officials, the athletic policy of the company, and the spirit of Decatur fans at the two Pyott games To George Halas must go a lot of the credit for landing the great star

SHAMROCK FIRST TO CROSS LINE

Rival Yachts in Deciding Race for Cup.

Sandy Hook N. J, July 26—Shamrock IV, the big green sloop with which Sir Thomas Lipton hopes today to lift the America s cup sped across the line today first at the start of the fifth international yacht race, which will decide the 1920 series Shamrock crossed nearly a minute ahead of Resolute according to unofficial timers ashore

Wind conditions made postponement necessary for the cup sloops, sauntering around the Ambrose channel lightship shortly before the time set for the start, found not enough wind to waft them over their thirty mile windward and leeward course within the six-hour time limit

It was crystal clear, and it seemed a day just suited for Shamrock She moved over the oily waters without the pounding that characterized her work in previous races

Shortly after noon the regatta committee signalled the following course for the fifth and final cup race

A fifteen-mile run from the Ambrose channel lightship south by west half-west with a fifteen-mile beat back to the lightship

At 12 15 the preparatory whistle was blown for a start at 12:30.

SUGGEST CHANGES.

Charles A Nicholson, designer of Shamrock, insists that the present races have been little more than trial races for Shamrock He also thinks that in all future America's cup races, the contenders should be manned entirely by a crew from the country they represent Resolute's crew is said to be made up largely of Scandinavian sailors

Suggestion has been made that should Sir Thomas Lipton fail to win today s race and lose the cup, that the Irish baronet enter the challenger in a series of races with Resolute and Vanitie along Long Island sound for cups offered by local yacht clubs

PUT ON THE PENALTIES.

War against war in the community should be revived. The "gun toter" is a menace to peaceable citizens and a strict enforcement of the penalties provided by the law should be again established.

When children seventeen years of age can secure guns and go out to rob, to kill if necessary, reputable citizens, it is time that the rules against the selling, carrying and use of guns should be most rigidly enforced.

Following the war when killing was made the business of millions of men and the training of the young men of the nation in the use of deadly weapons became the object of the world's greatest nations it is, perhaps, natural that a re-action against the peaceable laws of other days should occur, but it is quite plain that the rigid rules in regard to carrying arms must now be revived.

In law the community is fairly well protected against the gun carrier, but in practice we fall altogether too far short of the enforcement of those laws.

The extreme penalty should be assessed against anyone caught carrying deadly weapons. Society is so organized now that the individual warrior is a menace. Police departments are created and kept for the protection of the individual and the community. The private gunman must go.

Courts, officials, police departments should make this determined crusade effective. The selling of arms by stores should be limited and kept under strict watch.

In fact the selling of deadly weapons should be very strictly limited to a very few dealers in any community. The selling of such weapons should not be recognized as a legitimate means of making a profit. The business of the departments of justice in every community is to furnish protection to the individual. This can be greatly furthered by keeping strict control of the sale of fire arms of all descriptions but with particular reference to weapons which can be concealed and used by the professional criminal.

Evidence now indicates that Gus Ahrens was killed by a boy, a child, seventeen years of age, who was carrying a deadly weapon and who was out to rob.

The boy did not start out to commit murder but he went prepared to do so

A good citizen is dead. Some one, probably more than one, must suffer for the crime, the community quite as much as any other party to the deed. For the community is a party to it.

The indications are that a nest of young gunmen were in the making here In some way the community has failed.

Enforce the law against carrying weapons. That is a good point from which to start.

THE FIVE CENT FARE.

Decatur has a five cent street car fare. It is one of the very few cities in the state which still enjoys a ride for the old fashfoned nickel. Decatur would like to continue to ride for that five cent piece.

Continual harrassing of the street car company will not help to retain the low fares which prevail here. Complaints to the state public utilities commission in regard to the service here has brought merely one suggestion—that perhaps it would be well for the company to put a second car on the Pythian home line for thirty days to see if the business there would justify the added expense.

All other complaints of service which have been filed with the commission by Decatur's commissioner of streets have brought no recommendations from the commission to increase it.

The Review holds no brief for the local street railway company and the service at times and places is bad enough but if the changes and increased service which the street commissioner is insisting shall be made and installed mean a forty per cent jump in fares then The Review believes that the present service at five cents should be kept if possible.

Harrassing a public utilities company is poor business these days. With practically every city in Illinois now having six, seven or eight, and some are now asking for ten cent street car fares Decatur should let the situation alone.

It is no secret that the local officials of the street car company have protested aganst an increased fare when it has been suggested by the men higher up that the state commission should be asked for an increase to seven cents.

Local officials believe that the increased fare means fewer rides and not enough additional money to justify the advance. Their objection to the advance is not altruistic. Why they are willing to hold the fare at five cents is not so material to the persons who use the cars. They are simply interested in the twenty rides for a dollar fact.

The fact that the franchise expires next year may have something to do with it. But, if possible, for the sake of those who must ride to and from their work, let us keep the fare at the present figure.

Hectoring the street car company until fares are advanced will be a poor favor to extend to "the people."

Results in other cities show that the company has only to ask and it will receive permission to ask higher fares.

THIS IS NOT THE TIME.

Favorable response by the city council to the request of the city firemen for the establishment of the double platoon system here at this time could hardly be expected.

The financial problems which are so pressing on the city forbid any movement which would look to increases in the city forces in any of the departments and, as the double platoon system would call for more men in the department, the council could not see its way to take upon itself this additional financial burden now.

Having run as many years as the city has under the present plan it would seem possible to continue the system until some of the heaviest of the burdens, at least, have been eased.

The firemen are entitled to every consideration but such a radical change, involving a large increase in the expense of the department, could hardly be undertaken now.

To the request of the men that some consideration should be given to time in service a more favorable response might have been given.

Men in both civil and government positions feel that length of faithful service should have some recognition in the pay envelope

Congratulations to the police department. Let the good work go on and may the gunman spirit be utterly wiped out here.

The weather man would confer a benefit by turning on the rain just now.

We should have plenty of wood to burn next winter if the lake basin is cleared.

But even with that supply of fuel we do not want a coal strike.

About Town

REMEMBER when Fred Mueller bought that thoroughbred bull calf which was sold during the war when a calf club was established here and this particular animal was donated to the Red Cross?

Remember that Fred paid $500 for the really fine little boy bossy and that he was then taken to the Mueller place south of the river?

The little boy bossy is still there. He is no longer little but when it comes to being "bossy" he is it.

Recently, says Dame Rumor, Adolph Mueller and Fred Mueller climbed the pasture fence to take a look at "Red Cross King" and it is said that only a handy tree enabled the president and vice president of the Mueller Manufacturing company to escape the caresses of the charging bull.

A DECATUR man dropped into the Review office one afternoon, laid a Canadian newspaper on the editor's desk and with a single remark, "Even the prisoners in Canada are better off than we are," walked out. Investigating as to the cause of the caller's remark, this heading was found: "Parched Prisoner Finds Gin in Jail; Discovers Twenty-five Cases in Cell and Helps Himself."

MARK TWAIN'S HOUSE

(A movement is on foot at Hartford, Conn., sponsored by the Hartford Courant, to save Mark Twain's home from the hands of speculators.)

Huck Finn is playing round the house,
Tom Sawyer's whistling there,
And Pudd'n'head stands by the pane some thumb prints to compare;
The jumping frog is in the yard, and tender hearts and true,
Still hover 'day an' night around the home which Mark Twain knew,
Oh, save them from the sordid hand of commerce and of strife,
And keep that house a momument to all the joys of life.

There once the kindly writer lived and let his spirit flow,
And gave the world those characters which every age shall know;
There many a loyal heart was born and many a smile began
Which went upon its ripling round to cheer his fellow-man,
And now that he has gone away, the house he loved and knew
Should shelter still the playful souls his gentle spirit drew.

Too many tender memories within the home abide,
To let it go the common way along lifes changing tide,
Let grateful hearts support it now and generous purses give
That Huckleberry Finn may always have a place to live.
Where Mark Twain lived and worked and laughed and wept his bitter tears—
That spot should be his monument through all the future years.

GRAIN CROPS GOOD AROUND TUSCOLA

Tuscola, July 26.—The harvesting of oats in the country surrounding Tuscola was practically completed last week, though a very few fields of the later sowing were not in the shock on Saturday evening. The oats straw is not long but the heads appear to be good and the plentiful rains early in the season while the oats were growing caused them to spread about and they are very thick on the ground in most fields. The threshing of oats will likely begin the latter part of this week. Wheat threshing has been going on around here the last week. Reports from all threshing that have been heard so far, are to the effect that the wheat is making a good yield and the grain is of a splendid quality.

BRIEF NOTES.

The will of the late William D. Moyer of Arcola was filed for probate Saturday, with Attorney J. M. Merica of Tuscola named as executor. The estate consists of real estate of the value of about $32,000, and personal property of the value of $1,000.

The daughters of Mrs. Alice Brown celebrated the birthday of their mother Saturday evening by inviting in a few of her friends by way of a surprise. There were twenty-two guests present, including C. Dr. G. H. Fuller and Walter C. Hackett went to Madison, Wis., Saturday to spend the week end with their daughters, Miss Constance Fuller and Elizabeth Hackett, who are attending the summer term of school at that place. Messrs. Fuller and Hackett expect to go from Madison to some of the northern Wisconsin fishing lakes, probably Minocqua, for a few days before they return.

C. A. Vest and family, accompanied by Mrs. Vest's mother, Mrs. Sarah Brown of Charleston, left here Sunday morning in Mr. Vest's Nash touring car for a trip to New York to visit Mrs. Vest's sister, who was formerly Dr. Edith Brown of Charleston. They are equipped for camping if they desire to do so and will visit places of interest en route

George W. McGinness and Alex Simonton went to Waukesha, Wis., Saturday.

Deputy Sheriff Nathan Albritton and Special Deputy J. W. Moody took an inmate of the county farm by name of Siders, who had been adjudged insane, to the state institution at Kankakee, Saturday.

Mrs. Sam Ward is here from Kansas City visiting old friends.

Mrs. P. M. Moore, librarian at the Tuscola Public library, left Saturday for a months vacation at Bay View, Mich. During her absence, Miss Amelia Weisener is acting as librarian.

Mrs. James Sturgeon is reported as being very sick at her home here.

Mrs. George C. Schmitt received word Friday from her stepdaughter, Miss Lind Gross, that she has successfully passed the examination and received her diploma as a graduate nurse, at the Grant Hospital of Chicago.

MINISTER INJURED

Rev. J. M. Goodspeed, retired minister filled the pulpit at the Tuscola Methodist church again Sunday morning. Rev. Mr. Pence of the Camargo Methodist church was to have been here but on account of his injuries was unable to come to Tuscola. Rev. Mr. Pence was cranking a car which refused to start, when the crank slipped off the car striking him a terrific blow at the side of the face and cutting his face badly. Several stitches were required to close up the wound and it is now said that some infection has developed and his condition is very serious. Rev. M. B. McFadden, another retired minister, is again able to be in the pulpit and assist with the services, after many months confinement to his home by sickness.

HARDING HUMBLE IN UNDERTAKING PARTY LEADERSHIP

Sullivan Gives Pen Picture of Candidate's Attitude Toward High Office.

By Mark Sullivan.

Copyrighted 1920 by N. Y. Evening Post, Inc.

Marion, O., July 24—The Harding notification was an exalted and moving ceremony. It may be presidential notifications always take that turn. Your correspondent has not happened to attend any in the past and was conscious of a distinct surprise when he found himself acutely sensitive to an atmosphere usually associated with churches and with ceremonies that have to do with eternity. This atmosphere of reverence was not created by any art nor by the surroundings.

The building was a plain barn-like skeleton structure of wood, one of those summer Chautauqua auditoriums that consist of little more than a platform and a roof set among the trees of the rural park. The trappings, such as they were, the fife and drum corps, the brass band and twenty marching clubs were conducive rather to the opposite of reverence.

But something that was perhaps as much in the audience as in the speakers, suddenly made you realize what the occasion was, that more than 50,000 people, through their representative, were asking a modest and self-effacing citizen of Marion, O., to be the head of the greatest nation in the world, to accept an authority and a responsibility compared to which the power that the Caesars had over a few hundred thousand ignorant peasants was relatively puny.

UNCONSCIOUSLY SOLEMN

One was quite sure that much of this solemnity came from the audience, but probably more of it came from Harding himself. Not that he consciously created it. He has almost nothing of the dramatic in him, but he was obviously and deeply moved in a way that was perfectly in tune with the occasion. He was the picture of a diffident, almost a shy man called upon to accept a high responsibility, sincerely wishing to be sure that the country understood his limitations, earnestly determined to make clear exactly what were his ideas for the administration of the office to which he was being invited, rather more concerned, you felt, with giving people reasons why they might properly prefer another rather than soliciting the office for himself.

SWAYED BY SENTIMENT

That the audience had been deeply touched on its sentimental side was shown by the spontaniety with which they swung into "My Country 'Tis of Thee," in almost the same instant that Harding uttered his closing words. In this spirit of humility and diffidence, Senator Lodge, speaking for the republican party, had no share whatever. The dominant note of Lodge's speech and manner was one of complete occurance that the republican party is about to resume possession of the government of the United States, and of great satisfaction thereat.

LODGE'S ATTITUDE DIFFERENT

He had the air of announcing the termination of a most unfortunate period in our history, in which certain decidedly unworthy persons whose name it would be unbecoming to specify had unlawfully seized the reins of power. He had the air of announcing to the world that government is once more to be in the hands of its legitimate heirs, and he had no doubt whatever that every individual in the country would feel the same satisfaction that he profoundly felt. He was very well satisfied with the world and all that it contains by no measure excluding himself. At the end of his part of the performance, he sat down and while he reclined in his chair listening to the rest of the ceremonies he was definite and a picture to which his manner, his mental attitude, the expression of his countenance, the shape of his features, and his individual variations of an old-fashioned Van Dyke beard all contributed. It was a picture of a most contented cat returning to a most comfortable hearthstone, a cat of the malteese, dignified leonine, sure of his place in the world. A cat not merely enjoying the agreeable digestion of a recently consumed canary, but contemplating with almost spiritual satisfaction, a long procession of more canaries specially provided for his comfort.

HARDING'S HUMILITY

Senator Harding, however, had no such air of self-satisfaction. You would almost have said that he was ill at ease, except that his self-consciousness so plainly arose from humility. Senator Harding's features, when the light falls on them from above, are deeply lined and resemble the conventional mask of tragedy, except that their grimness is modified by benevolence. You felt sure that his conception of the presidency was not the popular one of enjoyment of power, but was the truer of an office to which the individual dedicates himself to continuous and unregretted sacrifice of self.

That note of solemn earnest dedication to high service and responsibility dominated every gesture of his arm, every expression of his countenance, every tone of his voice, and every word of his speech. The audience, on its part, was touched in its most exalted sensibilities by the feeling that here was a man who conceived of the thing he was about to do, both with a devout past and a serious future.

ONLY AN AGENT.

The very things which have been described as Senator Harding's limitations and handicaps he turned into appealing virtues. He virtually stated that he was no superman, that his conception of the presidency was one in which he should be the agent of the leaders of his party.

"Let it be understood clearly from the very beginning," he said, "I believe in party sponsorship in government. It was the intention of the founding fathers to make political parties not only the preserving sponsors but also the effective agencies through which hopes and aspirations and convictions and conscience may be transplanted into public performance."

In the same spirit, Senator Harding said, "No man is big enough to run this great republic."

NO SLIGHT TO WILSON.

He was referring wholly to his own attitude toward the presidency, to his own sense of his personal limitations. The audience took this sentence as having reference to President Wilson, and responded with applause and laughter that had in it a little of derision for the present occupant of the White House. This misinterpretation of his words caused Senator Harding some troubled embarrassment.

Senator Lodge's speech had been full of these ironic illusions to Wilson, but the whole spirit of Senator Harding's contained nothing assertive, not even disputatious. He did state that too much power had gone away from congress to the executive but he had the air of stating it merely as a historic fact and as a necessary preliminary to making clear his own intention of restoring the old balance between the branches of the government.

There was convincing evidence that his speech was a deliberate and almost laborious effort to set down his ideas of the problems ahead of us and his ways of meeting them.

WANTED UNDERSTANDING.

His greatest wish seemed to be that the country should understand his attitude clearly. There was not at any period the faintest evidence of straddle or of framing his utterances as an appeal for popularity.

That part of the speech which was attributed to the league of nations was immeasurably more satisfactory than the platform on the same subject. He gave a square issue to the democrats and to all others who believed as Wilson believed in it. In other respects his statements of issues were equally clear.

In style his speech was decidedly agreeable. Only a man of reflection and experience in the expression of his own thoughts could have written it.

It is quite possible that the engaging quality of his humility and earnestness may have lent added attractiveness to the quality of the thought in the speech as a speech, but one who listened to it carefully saw but few spots in which its economics were not entirely sound.

SISTER MARY'S MODEL KITCHEN

Copyright, 1920, N. E. A.)

Even if one does not possess a ring mold, one can still serve a salad molded in a ring and filled with any kind of filling desired

To make a jelly ring use two pans one within the other A weight will be needed in the inner pan to keep it from floating in the jelly before it jells"

For a summer luncheon a chicken salad served in a ring of chicken jelly has no equal. A salad molded in this fashion is most attractive and a little out of the ordinary. The hostess serves it at the table

MENU FOR TOMORROW

Breakfast—Blueberries with top milk, scrambled eggs toast, coffee

Luncheon—Cantaloupe filled with fruit jellied chicken salad Parker House rolls tea sponge pudding

Dinner—Nut loaf, new peas in cream sauce endive salad red raspberry short cake coffee

MY OWN RECIPES

When the fruit served for breakfast is rather mild the rest of the meal should have a definite flavor to give the whole tone. Put dried beef in the butter before the eggs are put in to cook. Let the edges of the beef curl a tiny bit. The result will be most satisfying

Jellied Chicken Salad—1 hen, one-year old, 1 cup celery diced, 2 hard boiled eggs, 1 cup English walnuts, Mayonnaise

Wash and cup up the chicken as for frying Wash the feet and legs very carefully and cook them with the chicken for the sake of the gelatin Granulated gelatin may be used to be on the safe side One tablespoonful of gelatin dissolved in ¼ cup of cold water may be added to the chicken broth just before straining. Cool the broth, skim, and reheat Add gelatin and strain through a cloth into the space between the pans, the ring mold Set aside to harden When solid, pour a drop of hot water into the inner pan and give it a twist Remove pan Plunge the larger pan into hot water for a second and then pass a knife around the ring The jelly can now be turned out on the serving dish Fill the ring with the chicken cut in dices combined with the celery and diced eggs Moisten with mayonnaise, sprinkle with nuts and put a large spoonful of stiff mayonaise on top The whole is of course, arranged on a bed of lettuce

Sponge Pudding—½ cup butter 2 tablespoons sugar 1 3 cup flour 2 cups milk 4 eggs

Sauce—½ cup butter 1 cup powdered sugar, 1 egg white 1 cup strawberries or any fruit desired

Mix butter, sugar and flour to a smooth paste Heat milk to the boiling point and stir in first mixture Beat until smooth and thick When cool add yolks and whites of eggs beaten separately. Pour into a buttered baking dish and set in a pan of hot water in oven Bake forty minutes To make sauce, cream butter and sugar Add white of egg beaten stiff and fruit.

Faulty Positions While At Work.

Don't let your body become deformed through faulty posture

Some occupations apparently cannot be carried on without the worker having to assume unhealthful positions This is the case, for example, with garment workers, shoemakers doing hand work, and draughtsmen.

Studying an occupation from the hygenic standpoint, especially as regards the position assumed by the worker, it is found that, in at least some instances, a faulty position can be corrected by changing the accepted or conventional manner and conditions of work

Consider what has been done in bricklaying—formerly a bricklayer stooped far over both to reach the bricks to lay and for the mortar, a ridiculous waste of energy Nowadays, both bricks and mortar are placed at a convenient height, and stooping is no longer necesary

Wherever deformity is due to a faulty position assumed by an individual, much can be accomplished by education and training, by attention to lighting style of chair height of desk or table eye strain, etc Almost equally important are setting-up exercises and breathing drills as practiced in most public schools

It isn't for the purpose of seeing as far as possible, nor as well as possible, nor to have as acute vision as possible.

Not altogether.

The first and most important consideration is comfortable vision.

And securing comfortable vision means in many cases the REDUCING of the acuity of vision. Stop imagining that your eyes are thus and so.

"TRY TRUTONA" PLEA OF DECATUR RESIDENT

Monroe St. Woman Urges All Sufferers from Stomach Trouble to Take Perfect Tonic—Thinks Relief Assured.

"Trutona is a wonderful medicine and I'll advise anyone suffering from troubles like mine to go to the Quaker Drug Store and buy a bottle," Mrs. Emma Reese, a well-known Decatur woman of 543 North Monroe Street, told the Trutona representative recently.

"I had been suffering with a bad stomach," she continued. "Gas formations affected my heart, causing a burning sensation, and I seemed to get out of breath and become tired so easily. At times, even the lightest weight against my stomach caused me much misery. I had severe kidney pains in my back. I've been so nervous that I haven't slept the whole night through for years. Constipation had always bothered me.

"I'm feeling better than I have for years, since taking Trutona. I hardly notice the gas formations at all now. I can eat a good hearty meal without suffering afterward nowadays. I don't experience the pains in my back any more either. My heart hasn't pained me for the past month. I can walk anywhere without becoming short of breath, also. I sleep so much better, too, and I can't remember when my bowels have been more normal. Trutona is just a wonderful medicine."

MRS. EMMA REESE.

Trutona is now being introduced and explained in Decatur at the Quaker Drug Company's store and is sold in surrounding cities and towns by all good druggists.

STALEYS PULL CONTEST OUT OF FIRE IN NINTH

Enter Last Frame Four Runs Behind but Produce Five Counters While Fans Go Wild With Joy.

Pulling one of those "Hairbreadth Harry" stunts you read about in dime novels, the starchworkers played the hero part Sunday afternoon, when they chased over five runs in the last half of the ninth, winning from the Pyotts of Chicago 8 to 7 after every one had marked the old game in the loss column.

It was one of the greatest finishes ever staged in Decatur and when Wasem scored the winning run with only two down, the fans heaved cushions all over the big stand. It was the happiest crowd that ever left the park and they had a right to be

Joe McGinnity was forced to use every bit of strategy at his command and the second guessers didn't have a chance to get on the "iron man," for everything he pulled turned out exactly right.

Seib was wild and Joe got him out of there. Ranney Young was hit hard in one inning and McGinnity derricked Ranney to let Veach hit. Lotshaw went into pinch hit and got a base on balls that later turned into a run, while Veach and English each produced hits when doing the pinch roll.

THAT NINTH FRAME

After George Watkins had popped out to Blank, Frank English went up to hit for McGinnity. He beat out an infield top Some of the visitors claimed the ball had beat him to the bag. Meinert came through with an infield hit Woodworth delived with a wallop to right, scoring English and sending Meinert to third. The fans took a new lease on life.

George Halas, who had been unable to connect on his other trips to the plate, singled to center and Meinert romped home. Ray Demmitt took four wide ones filling the bases Fritz Wasem tapped to Debus who threw out Demmitt at second, but on the try for a double killing, the ball got away from Kilby and two runs trickled over the plate, tying the score. McGlade walked and with Fritz Wasem roosting on third Driscoll threw Pahlmans tap past Kilby and the winning run scored.

TEAMS TIED UP

After Blank had beat out a hit in the third he went to second when McGlade threw wild at first The local third sacker had made a great play on his drive down the base line. Debus walked and with the count three and two on him, Driscoll combed out a three bagger to left scoring his two mates.

Staleys came back in their half and tied the score. Watkins got a two base hit over in left, a chance that neither Blank, Debus or Cronin could field Seib flew out and Meinert walked Woodworth singled scoring Watkins and Demmitt scored Walter with a long fly to Kavanaugh.

The visitors came back with another in the fourth. Kerins walked. Rambler followed suit Seib caught Kerins off second by three feet. Baichley struckout but Watkins in trying to nip Rambler off first threw the ball in right field It hopped passed Demmitt and Rambler scored

THEY SCORED THREE

We tied it up again in the fifth. Lotshaw hitting for Seib drew a pass, Meinert got an infield hit and Woodworth advanced both runners with a neat sacrifice Lotshaw beat Kilbys peg home on Halas tap.

The Pyotts put over three in the sixth. With one down Cronin singled. Kerins walked. Meinert dropped Ramblers fly but threw out Cronin at third Baichley doubled scoring two and Blank followed suit sending in the Chicago twirler. There was not any more scoring until the big ninth.

SHORT STOPS

It was the first garrison finish on the home lot this season and the fans certainly gave vent to their feelings. Cushions were hurled for fifteen minutes following Wasem's winning run.

There was more baseball crowded in that ninth frame than in an average game. Hits, wild pitches, bases on balls, errors, pinch hitters, stolen bases, several arguments and last but not least five big runs.

—:—

McGinnity certainly had the trategy board working during the contest, everybody got in the old game but Harry Rush and had Wasem failed to score he would have been in there twirling. Mr. Chamberlain was ready to get on a suit to pinch hit for some one as they seemed to be turning the tide.

—:—

Grover Baichley and Avory McGlade were team mates for three years in the old I-M league and the Central Association, the former being sent to the Browns. McGlade took picks on his offerings for two good wallops.

—:—

Seib got out of a bad hole in the fourth when he caught Kerins off second with two on and nobody down. Watkins' bad peg to first allowed one run to cross but it might have been worse.

—:—

The visitors had another patched up lineup. Hank Butcher was not even able to put on a uniform because of an attack of rheumatism while Spike La Ross could only hobble around the coaching lines owing to a bad foot sustained in Saturday's game.

—:—

They only secured four hits off Seib but his control was bad and McGinnity didn't care to run any more chances. Young's offerings were hit rather freely and Joe went in himself.

—:—

The Pyotts had never faced such a quick delivery. One of the athletes said after the game that Joe had him winded from swinging so fast.

—:—

With Paddie Driscoll signed for the football team it was only natural that he should toss the ball away in the ninth permitting his future teammates to win. Paddie says he will be ready to take all contributions on his return in September.

—:—

Bill Niesen was still talking to himself when the train pulled out early this morning. He had the old game sewed up in the medicine chest but it takes three outs to complete an inning. His athletes handed the ball like it was rubber in the last frame.

—:—

The new stand was given a good tryout Sunday but will see an even greater crowd when the Fairbanks Morse club plays here this coming week end. The Beloit club is one team that doesn't need any advertising.

SPORTS EDITOR WAS MUCH ALIVE

Rock Island, Ill., July 26—Upon his return to the office this morning from a two weeks vacation, James Hughes, sporting editor of the Argus, was confronted by the city editor who exhibited the following telegram just received from the Cedar Rapids Gazette: Body found here believed to be James Hughes, brother of Mrs. Joseph Hayes of Rock Island. Please verify."

Accordingly, James called up his home to "verify" it.

STALEYS SIGN PADDIE DRISCOLL FOR ELEVEN

Former All Western and All Service Backfield Star to Pilot Great Machine This Season.

When Superintendent G. E. Chamberlain of the E. A. Staley Co. announced the signing of Paddie Driscoll Sunday, he turned a trick that half of the great professional teams in the United States were attempting, for the Chicago boy was one of the most sought for athletes in the country.

Although Paddie has never performed in Decatur, his record as a football, base ball and basket ball man is well known to the followers of sports. He was the star of the Northwestern University eleven for three years and later gained a national reputation while playing with the Great Lakes Naval Training station team which won the service championship of the country.

DRISCOLL AND HALAS.

While it is not generally known throughout the country, it was Paddie Driscoll and George Halas that whipped the famous Lakes eleven into a championship machine, after Bo Olcott, the former Yale star, had been relieved as head coach and Lieutenant McReavy placed in charge.

McReavy had played at Annapolis but it was years ago and to Driscoll and Halas came the duties of actually coaching the eleven. The team had been held to a tie in several games under Olcott but when these two got hold of it, Halas to coach the line and Driscoll the back field, they never lost a game after that, defeating Rutgers, considered one of the best in the east, the Naval Academy and the Marines at Pasadena, Cal.

PLAYED WITH HAMMOND.

Last season Paddie played with the famous Hammond team that used the Cubs park in Chicago for their games. The two battles with the great Canton team, led by Jim Thorpe, were the classics of the western season as far as professional football wa concerned.

Rock Island with a wonderful machine, perhaps the greatest developed in Illinois, outside the Hammond eleven, was forced to bow to the Hammonds by a 12 to 6 score. With half of the famous Minneapolis Marines, Bob Marshall, Ursella, Joe Chicken and others, they received their only defeat at the hands of Driscoll and Halas.

The Islanders later offered Jim Thorpe $7,000 to bring his Canton team to the Mississippi river town.

HAVE GREAT BACKFIELD.

The signing of Driscoll gives the Staleys one of the best backfields that could be secured. Bob Kohler, slated to play full, Dutch Sternaman, former Illinois star, Jake Lanumn, Walter Veech, who played good football for the locals last season, and Driscoll at quarterback. Paddie is a wonderful field general and one of the greatest open field runners in the game

Driscoll will report Sept. 1 ready for duty. His coming also adds a clever basket ball guard to the A. E. Staley athletic family as well as a high class ball player. He was very much enthused over the Staley officials, the athletic policy of the company, and the spirit of Decatur fans at the two Pyott games. To George Halas must go a lot of the credit for landing the great star.

SPENCER BREAKS WORLD'S RECORD

Smashes 97 Targets Out of 100 in Double Event.

Mason City, Ia., July 25.—Charles Spencer, veteran St. Louis professional, set a new world's record for open competition for the Hazard trophy, emblematic of the world's double target championship here Sunday when he broke 97 out of the possible 50 pairs. The former record, 96 out of 100 targets, was made by William Ridley, of What Cheer, Iowa, at Denver, Colo, in 1912, and equalled by Clarence Platt, of Bridgetown, N. J, in the Grand American handicap at Chicago in 1917.

P. H. O'Brien, of Butte, Mont, and Mort Anderson of Errill, Iowa tied for second place with 95, while Joe Kautsky, of Fort Dodge, Iowa, was third with 91.

C. A. Gunning, of Longmont, Colo., won the Dupont trophy in the single target championship by breaking 49 out of a possible 50 in the shootoff with Frank Hughes, of Mobridge, S. D, Hughes broke 48. Gunning, Hughes and P. O'Brien, of Butte, Mont., had tied on the first 100 targets with scores of 98.

SEMI-PRO GAMES

VANDALIA WINS AGAIN

Vandalia, Ill., July 26.—Sensational fielding by Wasem and Kennick proved to be a big help for the locals here Sunday and they won an 8 to 4 game from Trenton.

Brinkman was batted hard and retired in the seventh in favor of Greess. Cvengross twirled his usual good game allowing the visitors but five wallops. Only one bobble was made by Vandalia during the game.

STONINGTON 8, MACON 2.

Macon, Ill., July 26.—Although the locals outhit Stonington Sunday the visitors took an easy win by an 8 to 2 score, the Macon erors behind Brinkotter proving very costly. Redman and R. Rushing formed the Stonington battery while Brinkotter of Decatur and Walsh worked for Macon.

Taylorville, July 26. — Taylorville had but little trouble in defeating Mt. Olive here Sunday, the score being 9 to 4.

Blanchfield, pitching for Taylorville, although hit freely, was always master of the situation and managed to keep the blows fairly well scattered.

OAKLEY DEFEATED

Blue Mound, Ill., July 26.—Merritt pitching for Oakley here Sunday only allowed four hits but miserable support by his mates gave the locals a 10 to 4 victory.

PANA 7, OWANECO 0.

Pana, Ill., July 26—The Pana Blue put up a gilt edge game Sunday, shutting out Owaneco in easy fashion. The visitors were only able to get one hit during the nine innings while Pana secured eleven. Both clubs put up errorless ball.

CERRO GORDO WINS

Cerro, Gordo, Ill., July 26.—The locals found Bondville rather easy Sunday taking the game by a 10 to 5 score.

ONE SIDED GAME

Ivesdale, Ill., July 26.—In a batfest here Sunday the locals ran away from Clinton 16 to 5. Every one on the local team hit the ball while Clinton made a number of bad errors.

America's Cup Race.

With the Resolute and Shamrock getting away at 12.30, New York time, in the fifth and deciding race for the America's cup Monday, the final result will be found on page 10 of this issue, unless weather conditions should prevent the yachts completing the 30 miles by press time.

Take Two Games

The Decatur Independents won a double header Sunday at Fairview park. A colored team was their first victim by an 18 to 12 score while the American Express Co. nine lost in the second game 10 to 5. Sheen and Clements did the mound duty while Shoemaker was on the receiving end. Clements whiffed 12 men in the second battle.

The locals are looking for Sunday games, in or out of town. Phone [illegible]

WALTHER LEAGUERS WIN FROM BLOOMERS

Locals Atone for Defeat Handed Them Few Weeks Ago.

Bartuschewski allowed the visitors but five hits and set 15 of them down via the strikeout route. The locals staged one big attack at which time they hit John rather hard, driving in four runs.

A number of the Bloomington society came down for the game and were entertained by the local organization. The junior team from Bloomington was also defeated, losing to the Decatur youngsters, 5 to 2.

The Decatur Walther Leaguers expect to make a number of trips to different parts of the state to meet their own society teams during the month of August.

SHAMROCK FIRST TO CROSS LINE

Rival Yachts in Deciding Race for Cup.

Sandy Hook, N. J., July 26.—Shamrock IV, the big green sloop with which Sir Thomas Lipton hopes today to lift the America's cup, sped across the line today first, at the start of the fifth international yacht race, which will decide the 1920 series. Shamrock crossed nearly a minute ahead of Resolute according to unofficial timers ashore.

Wind conditions made postponement necessary for the cup sloops, sauntering around the Ambrose channel lightship shortly before the time set for the start, found not enough wind to waft them over their thirty-mile windward and leeward course within the six-hour time limit.

It was crystal clear, and it seemed a day just suited for Shamrock. She moved over the oily waters without the pounding that characterized her work in previous races.

Shortly after noon the regatta committee signalled the following course for the fifth and final cup race:

A fifteen-mile run from the Ambrose channel lightship south by west half-west, with a fifteen-mile beat back to the lightship.

At 12:15 the preparatory whistle was blown for a start at 12:30.

SUGGEST CHANGES

Charles A. Nicholson, designer of Shamrock, insists that the present races have been little more than trial races for Shamrock. He also thinks that in all future America's cup races, the contenders should be manned entirely by a crew from the country they represent. Resolute's crew is said to be made up largely of Scandinavian sailors.

Suggestion has been made that should Sir Thomas Lipton fail to win today's race and lose the cup, that the Irish baronet enter the challenger in a series of races with Resolute and Vanitie, along Long Island sound for cups offered by local yacht clubs.

PUT ON THE PENALTIES.

War against war in the community should be revived. The "gun toter" is a menace to peaceable citizens and a strict enforcement of the penalties provided by the law should be again established.

When children seventeen years of age can secure guns and go out to rob, to kill if necessary, reputable citizens, it is time that the rules against the selling, carrying and use of guns should be most rigidly enforced.

Following the war when killing was made the business of millions of men and the training of the young men of the nation in the use of deadly weapons became the object of the world's greatest nations it is, perhaps, natural that a re-action against the peaceable laws of other days should occur, but it is quite plain that the rigid rules in regard to carrying arms must now be revived.

In law the community is fairly well protected against the gun carrier, but in practice we fall altogether too far short of the enforcement of those laws.

The extreme penalty should be assessed against anyone caught carrying deadly weapons. Society is so organized now that the individual warrior is a menace. Police departments are created and kept for the protection of the individual and the community. The private gunman must go.

Courts, officials, police departments should make this determined crusade effective. The selling of arms by stores should be limited and kept under strict watch.

In fact the selling of deadly weapons should be very strictly limited to a very few dealers in any community. The selling of such weapons should not be recognized as a legitimate means of making a profit. The business of the departments of justice in every community is to furnish protection to the individual. This can be greatly furthered by keeping strict control of the sale of fire arms of all descriptions but with particular reference to weapons which can be concealed and used by the professional criminal.

Evidence now indicates that Gus Ahrens was killed by a boy, a child, seventeen years of age, who was carrying a deadly weapon and who was out to rob.

The boy did not start out to commit murder but he went prepared to do so.

A good citizen is dead. Some one, probably more than one, must suffer for the crime, the community quite as much as any other party to the deed. For the community is a party to it.

The indications are that a nest of young gunmen were in the making here. In some way the community has failed.

Enforce the law against carrying weapons. That is a good point from which to start.

THE FIVE CENT FARE.

Decatur has a five cent street car fare. It is one of the very few cities in the state which still enjoys a ride for the old fashfoned nickel. Decatur would like to continue to ride for that five cent piece.

Continual harrassing of the street car company will not help to retain the low fares which prevail here. Complaints to the state public utilities commission in regard to the service here has brought merely one suggestion—that perhaps it would be well for the company to put a second car on the Pythian home line for thirty days to see if the business there would justify the added expense.

All other complaints of service which have been filed with the commission by Decatur's commissioner of streets have brought no recommendations from the commission to increase it.

The Review holds no brief for the local street railway company and the service at times and places is bad enough but if the changes and increased service which the street commissioner is insisting shall be made and installed mean a forty per cent jump in fares then The Review believes that the present service at five cents should be kept if possible.

Harrassing a public utilities company is poor business these days. With practically every city in Illinois now having six, seven or eight, and some are now asking for ten cent street car fares Decatur should let the situation alone.

It is no secret that the local officials of the street car company have protested aganst an increased fare when it has been suggested by the men higher up that the state commission should be asked for an increase to seven cents.

Local officials believe that the increased fare means fewer rides and not enough additional money to justify the advance. Their objection to the advance is not altruistic. Why they are willing to hold the fare at five cents is not so material to the persons who use the cars. They are simply interested in the twenty rides for a dollar fact.

The fact that the franchise expires next year may have something to do with it. But, if possible, for the sake of those who must ride to and from their work, let us keep the fare at the present figure.

Hectoring the street car company until fares are advanced will be a poor favor to extend to "the people."

Results in other cities show that the company has only to ask and it will receive permission to ask higher fares.

THIS IS NOT THE TIME.

Favorable response by the city council to the request of the city firemen for the establishment of the double platoon system here at this time could hardly be expected.

The financial problems which are so pressing on the city forbid any movement which would look to increases in the city forces in any of the departments and, as the double platoon system would call for more men in the department, the council could not see its way to take upon itself this additional financial burden now.

Having run as many years as the city has under the present plan it would seem possible to continue the system until some of the heaviest of the burdens, at least, have been eased.

The firemen are entitled to every consideration but such a radical change, involving a large increase in the expense of the department, could hardly be undertaken now.

To the request of the men that some consideration should be given to time in service a more favorable response might have been given.

Men in both civil and government positions feel that length of faithful service should have some recognition in the pay envelope

Congratulations to the police department. Let the good work go on and may the gunman spirit be utterly wiped out here.

The weather man would confer a benefit by turning on the rain just now.

We should have plenty of wood to burn next winter if the lake basin is cleared.

But even with that supply of fuel we do not want a coal strike.

About Town

REMEMBER when Fred Mueller bought that thoroughbred bull calf which was sold during the war when a calf club was established here and this particular animal was donated to the Red Cross?

Remember that Fred paid $500 for the really fine little boy bossy and that he was then taken to the Mueller place south of the river?

The little boy bossy is still there. He is no longer little but when it comes to being "bossy" he is it.

Recently, says Dame Rumor, Adolph Mueller and Fred Mueller climbed the pasture fence to take a look at "Red Cross King" and it is said that only a handy tree enabled the president and vice president of the Mueller Manufacturing company to escape the caresses of the charging bull.

A DECATUR man dropped into the Review office one afternoon, laid a Canadian newspaper on the editor's desk and with a single remark, "Even the prisoners in Canada are better off than we are," walked out. Investigating as to the cause of the caller's remark, this heading was found: "Parched Prisoner Finds Gin in Jail; Discovers Twenty-five Cases in Cell and Helps Himself."

MARK TWAIN'S HOUSE

(A movement is on foot at Hartford, Conn., sponsored by the Hartford Courant, to save Mark Twain's home from the hands of speculators.)

Huck Finn is playing round the house,
Tom Sawyer's whistling there,
And Pudd'n'head stands by the pane
some thumb prints to compare;
The jumping frog is in the yard, and tender hearts and true.
Still hover 'day an' night around the home which Mark Twain knew.
Oh, save them from the sordid hand
of commerce and of strife.
And keep that house a momument to all the joys of life.

There once the kindly writer lived
and let his spirit flow,
And gave the world those characters
which every age shall know;
There many a loyal heart was born and many a smile began
Which went upon its ripling round to check his fellow-man.
And now that he has gone away, the house he loved and knew
Should shelter still the playful souls his gentle spirit drew.

Too many tender memories within the home abide.
To let it go the common way along lifes changing tide.
Let grateful hearts support it now and generous purses give That Huckleberry Finn may always have a place to live.
Where Mark Twain lived and worked and laughed and wept his bitter tears—
That spot should be his monument through all the future years.

GRAIN CROPS GOOD AROUND TUSCOLA

Tuscola, July 26.—The harvesting of oats in the country surrounding Tuscola was practically completed last week, though a very few fields of the later sowing were not in the shock on Saturday evening. The oats straw is not long but the heads appear to be good and the plentiful rains early in the season while the oats were growing caused them to spread about and they are very thick on the ground in most fields. The threshing of oats will likely begin the latter part of this week. Wheat threshing has been going on around here the last week. Reports from all threshing that have been heard so far, are to the effect that the wheat is making a good yield and the grain is of a splendid quality.

BRIEF NOTES.

The will of the late William D. Moyer of Arcola was filed for probate Saturday, with Attorney J. M. Merica of Tuscola named as executor. The estate consists of real estate of the value of about $32,000, and personal property of the value of $1,000.

Fuller and Hackett expect to go from Madison to some of the northern Wisconsin fishing lakes, probably Minocqua, for a few days before they return.

C. A. Vest and family, accompanied by Mrs. Vest's mother, Mrs. Sarah Brown of Charleston, left here Sunday morning in Mr. Vest's Nash touring car for a trip to New York to visit Mrs. Vest's sister, who was formerly Dr. Edith Brown of Charleston. They are equipped for camping if they desire to do so and will visit places of interest en route.

Mr. Pence of the Camargo Methodist church was to have been here but on account of his injuries was unable to come to Tuscola. Rev. Mr. Pence was cranking a car which refused to start, when the crank slipped off the car striking him a terrific blow at the side of he face and cutting his face badly. Several stitches were required to close up he wound and it is now said that some infection has developed and his condition is very serious. Rev. M. B. HARDING HUMBLE IN UNDERTAKING PARTY LEADERSHIP

By Mark Sullivan.

Copyrighted 1920 by N. Y. Evening Post. Inc.

Marion, O., July 24—The Harding notification was an exalted and moving ceremony. It may be presidential notifications always take that turn. Your correspondent has not happened to attend any in the past and was conscious of a distinct surprise when he found himself acutely sensitive to an atmosphere usually associated with churches and with ceremonies that have to do with eternity. This atmosphere of reverence was not created by any art nor by the surroundings.

The building was a plain barn-like skeleton structure of wood, one of those summer Chautauqua auditoriums that consist of little more than a platform and a roof set among the trees of the rural park. The trappings, such as they were, the fife and drum corps, the brass band and twenty marching clubs were conducive rather to the opposite of reverence.

But something that was perhaps as much in the audience as in the speakers, suddenly made you realize what the occasion was, that more than 50,000 people, through their representative, were asking a modest and self-effacing citizen of Marion, O., to be the head of the greatest nation in the world, to accept an authority and a responsibility compared to which the power that the Caesars had over a few hundred thousand ignorant peasants was relatively puny.

UNCONSCIOUSLY SOLEMN

One was quite sure that much of this solemnity came from the audience, but probably more of it came from Harding himself. Not that he consciously created it. He has almost nothing of the dramatic in him, but he was obviously and deeply moved in a way that was perfectly in tune with the occasion. He was the picture of a diffident, almost a shy man called upon to accept a high responsibility, sincerely wishing to be sure that the country understood his limitations, earnestly determined to make clear exactly what were his ideas for the administration of the office to which he was being invited, rather more concerned, you felt, with giving people reasons why they might properly prefer another rather than soliciting the office for himself.

SWAYED BY SENTIMENT

That the audience had been deeply touched on its sentimental side was shown by the spontaniety with which they swung into "My Country 'Tis of Thee," in almost the same instant that Harding uttered his closing words. In this spirit of humility and diffidence, Senator Lodge, speaking for the republican party, had no share whatever. The dominant note of Lodge's speech and manner was one of complete occurance that the republican party is about to resume possession of the government of the United States, and of great satisfaction thereat.

LODGE'S ATTITUDE DIFFERENT

He had the air of announcing the termination of a most unfortunate period in our history, in which certain decidedly unworthy persons whose name it would be unbecoming to specify had unlawfully seized the reins of power. He had the air of announcing to the world that government is once more to be in the hands of its legitimate heirs, and he had no doubt whatever that every individual in the country would feel the same satisfaction that he profoundly felt. He was very well satisfied with the world and all that it contains by no measure excluding himself. At the end of his part of the performance, he sat down and while he reclined in his chair listening to the rest of the ceremonies he was definite and a picture to which his manner, his mental attitude, the expression of his countenance, the shape of his features, and his individual variations of an old-fashioned Van Dyke beard all contributed. It was a picture of a most contented cat returning to a most comfortable hearthstone, a cat of the malteese, dignified leonine, sure of his place in the world. A cat not merely enjoying the agreeable digestion of a recently consumed canary, but contemplating with almost spiritual satisfaction, a long procession of more canaries specially provided for his comfort.

HARDING'S HUMILITY

Senator Harding, however, had no such air of self-satisfaction. You would almost have said that he was ill at ease, except that his self-consciousness so plainly arose from humility. Senator Harding's features, when the light falls on them from above, are deeply lined and resemble the conventional mask of tragedy, except that their grimness is modified by benevolence. You felt sure that his conception of the presidency was not the popular one of enjoyment of power, but was the truer of an office to which the individual dedicates himself to continuous and unregretted sacrifice of self.

That note of solemn earnest dedication to high service and responsibility dominated every gesture of his arm, every expression of his countenance, every tone of his voice, and every word of his speech. The audience, on its part, was touched in its most exalted sensibilities by the feeling that here was a man who conceived of the thing he was about to do, both with a devout past and a serious future.

ONLY AN AGENT.

The very things which have been described as Senator Harding's limitations and handicaps he turned into appealing virtues. He virtually stated that he was no superman, that his conception of the presidency was one in which he should be the agent of the leaders of his party.

"Let it be understood clearly from the very beginning," he said, "I believe in party sponsorship in government. It was the intention of the founding fathers to make political parties not only the preserving sponsors but also the effective agencies through which hopes and aspirations and convictions and conscience may be transplanted into public performance."

In the same spirit, Senator Harding said, "No man is big enough to run this great republic."

NO SLIGHT TO WILSON.

He was referring wholly to his own attitude toward the presidency, to his own sense of his personal limitations. The audience took this sentence as having reference to President Wilson, and responded with applause and laughter that had in it a little of derision for the present occupant of the White House. This misinterpretation of his words caused Senator Harding some troubled embarrassment.

Senator Lodge's speech had been full of these ironic illusions to Wilson, but the whole spirit of Senator Harding's contained nothing assertive, not even disputatious. He did state that too much power had gone away from congress to the executive but he had the air of stating it merely as a historic fact and as a necessary preliminary to making clear his own intention of restoring the old balance between the branches of the government.

There was convincing evidence that his speech was a deliberate and almost laborious effort to set down his ideas of the problems ahead of us and his ways of meeting them.

WANTED UNDERSTANDING.

His greatest wish seemed to be that the country should understand his attitude clearly. There was not at any period the faintest evidence of straddle or of framing his utterances as an appeal for popularity.

That part of the speech which was attributed to the league of nations was immeasurably more satisfactory than the platform on the same subject. He gave a square issue to the democrats and to all others who believed as Wilson believed in it. In other respects his statements of issues were equally clear.

In style his speech was decidedly agreeable. Only a man of reflection and experience in the expression of his own thoughts could have written it.

It is quite possible that the engaging quality of his humility and earnestness may have lent added attractiveness to the quality of the thought in the speech as a speech, but one who listened to it carefully saw but few spots in which its economics were not entirely sound.

Here's how Joe's fish story really started

WE CLAMBERED down.
THROUGH HEAVY thickets.
AND WE rowed the boat.
OUT TO a rocky ledge.
WHERE BLACK bass hide.
THEN JOE let out a roar.
FOR HIS cigar box.
HAD FISH lines in it.
INSTEAD OF smokes.

AND HE refused with scorn.

HE SAID they were not.

HE'D HAVE a man's smoke,

AND FOR an hour.
HE GOT nothing.
NOT EVEN a bite.
WHILE WE pulled 'em in.
AT LAST he grunted.

"GIMME A cigarette."

AND IT just happened.

HIS LUCK changed then.

SO NOW Joe swears.

THAT THOSE cigarettes.

Constipation Causes Serious Ills

If you are its victim, try strengthening your digestive and eliminative organs with Nature's Remedy—it's better than laxatives.

NR Today—Keeps the Doctor Away

One of the world's greatest scientists says that more than 90% of all human ills can be traced directly or indirectly to constipation. How many sufferers realize this?

Most of them continually dose themselves with so-called laxative pills, calomel, oil, purges and cathartics and force bowel action To do that is a mistake. It weakens the bowels and liver and makes constant dosing necessary.

Why don't you begin right today to overcome your constipation and get your system in such shape that constant drugging will be unnecessary? You can do so if you get a 25c box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and take one each night for a week or so.

NR Tablets do much more than merely cause pleasant, easy bowel action This medicine acts upon the digestive as well as eliminative organs—promotes good digestion, causes the body to get the nourishment from all the food you eat, gives you a good, hearty appetite, strengthens the liver, overcomes biliousness, regulates kidney and bowel action and gives the whole body a thorough cleaning out

And NR does this without a sign of griping, pain or unpleasantness It works gently, but promptly and thoroughly. In a few days you notice the real result You begin to feel that you are living again, with new strength, new energy, vim and pep and ginger You soon find your bowels acting regularly without help Try Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and prove this It is the best bowel medicine that you can use and costs only 25c per box, containing enough to last twenty-five days Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist

GRAIN PRICES IN GREAT DECLINE

Dealers Refuse to Quote —All Lines Drop.

Grain markets went into a state of complete collapse Monday cash corn dropping from three to seven cents a bushel oats slipping from three to nine cents and wheat following with a drop in futures of five to six cents

The market was so badly demoralized that Decatur cash grain buyers declined to make quotations for Tuesday

Continued reports of excellent crop prospects, the belief that the accounts of the rust damage in the wheat fields had been greatly overdrawn and the probable settlement or at least great improvement in the car situation all tended to give the market nervous prostration Decatur millers simply declined to quote prices

Decatur dealers are offering the following prices for grain.

SHARP SETBACKS IN VALUE OF WHEAT

Chicago July 26—Sharp setbacks in the value of wheat took place today largely as a result of federal reserve advices indicating that black rust would not cause any large impairment of yield in the spring crop yield It was said that cutting of early wheat would start in five days and that the harvest would be general in three weeks Opening prices which ranged from 3 to 4 cents lower with December $2 51 to 2 52 and March $2 55 to 2 56 were followed by material further breaks

Financial and industrial conditions counted later as radical bearish factors The market closed weak 7¾ to 8c net lower at $2 47¼ December and $2 51 March

Excellent weather conditions and liberal receipts had a bearish effect on corn After opening 1 to 2¼c lower, including September $1 48½ to 1 50½ and December $1 34½ to 1 36 the market continued to descend

Oats sympathized with the weakness of corn Initial quotations were ⅜ to ⅝c down and a decided further sag ensued

Lower prices on hogs and grain brought about a general decline in provisions

INDUSTRIAL SHARES RALLY, THEN DECLINE

New York July 26 — Industrial shares rallied from their early setback on the exchange especially steels and equipments, but any advantage in that quarter was forfeited when the shorts uncovered fresh elements of weakness The recent selling of the cheaper motors and oils made further progress United States Steel was comparatively firm probably in expectation of a favorable quarterly statement to be issued after the close of tomorrow's session Exchange on London was barely steady but call money opened at eight per cent compared with last week's final quotation of nine per cent

The closing was heavy

The defeat of the Americans eliminates them from a chance of winning first place Under the elimination system however, they still have a chance to win second place

BREAK UP GANG OF YOUTHFUL DESPERADOES

Work on Ahrens Murder Case Unearths Information on Various Robberies.

The police believe that with the arrest of Howard Wilderman Alonzo Smith Harry Lemings Charles Merrill Jack O Donnell and Heck Hayes they have broken up the worst gang of youthful desperadoes that ever operated in Decatur The police believe that these boys and men belong to part of a well organized gang that has pulled off a number of robberies and hold ups In fact the officers claim to have confessions from some of the gang not only regarding the murder of Gus Ahrens but also concerning robberies that have been pulled off during the past eight months or a year

ABRAHAM ROBBERY

According to the police they have a signed confession by Harry Lemings in which he states that he acted as look out on the night of Feb [illegible] when Howard Wilderman and Jack O Donnell held up and robbed Walter Abraham of $[illegible] as he was going home from his store This robbery occurred at the alley on South Maffit street between Cantrell street and Lincoln avenue There was a statement that Mr Abraham had got his money back but he said Monday that he had not received any part of it According to Lemings confession the money was divided three ways and Lemings received $1[illegible]

Harry Armstrong's bloodhounds trailed Wilderman and O Donnell that night They were arrested but were released when taken before Justice Dickinson for preliminary examination The case was presented to the grand jury but although the police claimed to have enough evidence to convict them and Mr Abraham had identified the boys the grand jury did not see fit to return an indictment against them Had they been prosecuted then the Ahrens murder might never have been committed

According to the police Lemings also admitted that he in company with Charles Merrill and Heck Hayes stole about $[illegible] worth of tools from Birt & Driscoll near the gravel pit recently

Charles Merrill who lives at 1[illegible] South Broadway has according to the police confessed to that robbery and also that he helped rob the Huddleson & Cross store at [illegible] South Maffit street last winter

Heck Hayes of 1[illegible] South Colfax street is the eldest member of the gang arrested He is forty five years old He is in the county jail charged with theft of tools from Birt & Driscoll

In addition to being implicated in the Ahrens murder the police say that Jack O Donnell helped rob the [illegible] store on South Franklin street and was mixed up in several other robberies

After Jack O Donnell had confessed to his knowledge of the Ahrens murder early Sunday morning and told how he had helped Wilderman and Smith frame up an alibi Wilderman was again taken into Chief Allen's private office and questioned He was asked if he thought O Donnell could be depended on to tell the truth and he said yes Then he was told that O Donnell had confessed to the frame up of the alibi This did not shake Wilderman in the least He declared that O Donnell didn't know what he was talking about He is as cool and unruffled as though he were [illegible] of the accused

GOOD WORK ON CASE

The police give Private Detectives Harry Armstrong and I F Colbeck and their assistant credit for faithful and efficient work in the case They were on the job a few minutes after the murder and stayed to the finish Mr Armstrong put his best blood hound on the trail which led to the clump of trees on the hill just south of Park View avenue on South Maffit street which is not far from the homes of Smith and Wilderman J G Wallace city salesman for Morehouse & Wells had described the man he saw running immediately after the shots were fired and Mr Armstrong and Captain Cline at once said that the description fit that of Wilderman When the dog went in the direction of Wilderman's home they were convinced he was one of the men implicated and Wilderman Smith and O Donnell were rounded up that night Wilderman's shirt was wringing wet with sweat With the help of O Donnell Wilderman established an alibi But there was a lapse of about half an hour that they did not account for They were turned loose

PAID FOR INFORMATION

I was so thoroughly convinced that we had the right men said Detective Armstrong that two days after the murder I swore out a warrant for the known members of the gang on a charge of robbery We had the goods on them in a robbery case and I swore out the warrant in order to keep them here while we were running down other clues in the murder case I felt confident that in the end the trail would lead back to Wilderman and at least one of the others The police had no funds with which to employ outsiders to work on the case but there were two colored men who were close to young Smith and who said that if Smith knew anything they could get it out of him but they said they would not work for nothing I promised to pay them for any information they could bring me and did give them money out of my own pocket That was before any reward was offered The reward will doubtless go to those colored men who induced young Smith to come clean with his confession. I was under contract with Mr. Ahrens to use the dogs in trailing any one who might rob or attempt to rob his store and a card to that effect is still posted in his window. When an attempt was made once before to rob the Ahrens store my dogs trailed Wilderman home He had scattered pepper along the route to prevent the dogs following him but that fact was soon discovered by the finding of empty pepper cans along the route and by following the route indicated by the cans we knew Wilderman was implicated Naturally I suspected him of the murder

HOLD INQUEST

Coroner Leon A Monson will hold the inquest at [illegible] o clock Monday evening The jury was sworn in the day after the murder and is composed of Charles Braden Eugene Linxweiler L W MacNeil Earl Stultz F F Fletcher and L H Baird Coroner Monson had delayed the inquest at the request of the police department who wanted to gather evidence that would cause any suspects to be held

The police are not yet done with the young criminal element in Decatur In working on the Ahrens murder case they unearthed a lot of information not only concerning the men who are now in custody but others who have been committing robberies in various parts of the city

INQUEST PUBLIC

Coroner Monson will hold the inquest in the county court room at 7 o clock this evening I would much prefer to have it private said Coroner Monson Monday morning but it is a matter in which the public is interested and the law does not require that inquests be private so it will be held in the county court room

[illegible] & Helmick have been retained to defend Howard Wilderman and Alonzo Smith Possibly Attorney J C Lee will be associated with them in the defense but that is not yet known Mr Lee has been retained to defend Heck Hayes arrested on the charge of stealing tools from Birt & Driscoll

Heck Hayes and Harry Lemings were released on $1 000 bond each Monday morning to appear before Justice H C Noble Aug 1 for preliminary hearing

I hope the public will not pass judgment on this case until all the facts are known said Attorney J C Lee Monday There are many things connected with this case that the police do not know about It will be sifted to the bottom Nobody is going to be railroaded The public should not condemn until all the evidence is in

FOOT CRUSHED IN CAR OF LUMBER

Little Girl Makes Face At Man Who Rescued Her.

Riding in a car of lumber that was being shoved around in the Wabash yards early Monday morning M L Duff a Missouri man was slightly injured when the lumber in the car shifted pinning him in the end of the car He was hurried to the Decatur and Macon County hospital but it was not that his injuries were serious beyond a badly crushed foot

That more serious accidents do not happen in the Wabash yards is a surprise to switchmen working there Only last Saturday one switchman grabbed a little girl off the tracks when she became confused at the approach of a switch engine on one track and Wabash No 4 passenger on another She was walking down the track carrying a dinner bucket and an umbrella The switchman carried her to a place of safety and told her she had better stay out of the yards whereupon she turned and made a face at him

On the day before another switchman rescued a sleeping Greek from beneath a string of cars just as the switch engine was backing down on them He slept with his head on the rail within a foot of the wheels When awakened he jumped up and yelled at the switchman Me see im me see im

DROP SPECIAL PRIVILEGE SECTION

'Lodges, Societies and Churches" Not Favored In New Ordinance

Special privileges to lodges societies and churches granted in one section of the present ordinance, will almost certainly not appear in the revised ordinance covering the entire question of shows carnivals and the like which will be introduced into the council some time soon after more important matters have been taken care of

After Commissioner Alex Van Praag had introduced a resolution in the council Monday morning suggesting that the ordinance be revised in two sections one where the special exception was made for such expositions held under the auspices of a home association and in the other where the rates are now $50 a day for circuses and $5 a day for other shows the license fee to be doubled Commissioner J W Montgomery suggested that the whole subject be taken up by the council as a committee of the whole soon and the entire section of the ordinance changed to meet modern conditions

Mr Montgomery has had the section of the ordinances under consideration for some time but much more important matters than show licenses have engaged all of the time of the council for two months It is expected that this revision will be taken up soon with a more or less complete change of the entire section

Only routine business other than the final passage of the ordinance providing for the sale of the West Main street firehouse property engaged the attention of the council at the brief session Monday

FIRST CAR LOAD SYRUP LEAVES

Staley Factory Sends Product To New Orleans

Of crystal clearness sweet and of the very best quality the first tank car load of corn syrup or glucose left the Staley factory last week for New Orleans

The company is now making the glucose in commercial quantities and if the water supply continues adequate the output will be steadily increased as the work becomes systematized

The demand for the syrup is practically unlimited while the demand for starch is not as good at this time

Champaign Ills July 26—William H H Miller of Champaign announced his candidacy for the republican nomination for lieutenant governor here today.

ALL MINERS IN DECATUR OUT

Dissatisfaction Over Wage Agreement.

All the miners in Decatur are out Those at the Macon County Coal Company shaft appeared for work Monday morning but decided not to go down because of the refusal of the company day men to work

The suspension here is caused by the same trouble which has brought out the men in other parts of Illinois dissatisfaction of the day men with the wage agreement which was signed in April

The miners at the shaft of the Decatur Coal Company did not go out until 10 o clock but by noon all coal production in the Decatur shafts was suspended

In talking with the men Forest Fife manager of the Macon County Coal Co could get little satisfaction as the miners did not care to discuss the situation

SUPPLY COAL LOW

Coal supplies in Decatur are not large and it is certain that many industries will be compelled to suspend operations within a very short time if the general suspension of mining in the state is continued

At the waterworks a small supply is on hand and it is expected that shipments from other states can be made to keep the pumping and lighting station going The coal will cost the city about twice the price being paid for the local product by the time the high freight rates are paid

Settlement of the trouble must come through the state officials and it is unknown how soon this can be effected

400 AFFECTED

The local mines employ about 400 men who will be affected at once by the strike Hundreds of others will soon be thrown out by the suspension of other industries

SCOUTS COMPETE IN PICNIC EVENTS

Enrollment for Third Camp Period Lags.

Arrangements are being made whereby the Boy Scouts of Decatur and Springfield now encamped at Camp Sangamo will compete in land and water events of the Chamber of Commerce picnic to be held in Bunn Park August 4 The events will be wall scaling tower building water boiling speed swimming boat tilting fancy diving and life saving Ribbons and pennants will be given to winning teams and point winners

So far registrations among Decatur scouts for the third period at camp have been lagging somewhat, only eighteen having signed up by Monday noon The scout headquarters will be open until 8 o clock tonight to accommodate the scouts and Tuesday is positively the last day on which registrations may be made So many of the scouts have left the city with relatives on vacation trips that the quota for this period is a little hard to fill Springfield already has forty scouts lined up and has others ready to fill the vacancies in case Decatur does not send her quota

MANY VISITORS

A large number of Decatur and Springfield folks visited the camp Sunday and in the afternoon about fifty cars were parked in the camp Those who went bring back the report that the camp is in excellent condition and has every appearance of a well ordered military camp Even the waterfront on the opposite shore of the lake has been cleaned up The water in the lake also is clearing a little although the scouts still are able to have mud baths

WATERMELON TREAT

At supper time Friday evening the scouts had a real surprise when ripe delicious watermelon was served as dessert This was a treat from Robert Jess who has become a staunch friends of scouts On Saturday noon Mr Jess came driving into camp with a five gallon freezer of ice cream It is said the rousing cheers given by the scouts could be heard as far as Springfield

One day last week five carrier pigeons were taken to camp from Springfield and released at 5 o clock with a message for Springfield citizens from the scouts All but two of the pigeons reached Springfield before nightfall

Under the new program of scouting instruction many of the scouts are passing tests The Court of Honor has been sitting each night to promote all scouts who have passed tests

Maroa Forsyth and Hume scouts are being given an opportunity to get in on the third period at camp
